Visit "Time Consumes Time" on MotoLyrics.com time sits in an echoed canyon it is enclosed with ill illusion suffering and Spitting falling and faulting calling and killing when it opens its rusted eyes time is a wretched slayer spinning and enjoying its web for death making no sense in what it does making all fun for what it does time consumes all: air, water, earth time even consumes time even consumes time it overcomes all fear while inspiring all souls with fear burning like an ember of destruction none ever escapes time it is a perfect circle of downfall
