There is one in a million like you
A dream in a million come true
I confess that I really don't know why
But I know that I glow like I do
Only once in a lifetime is par
To find someone rare as you are
But now you're around, I have really found
That there's one in a million like you
Fate was surely kind to help my heart find
Someone like you to be my love
I give thanks each day that you came my way
Way out of heaven to try love
Oh yes, once in a lifetime you know
A love heaven started below
Though it may be rare, you and I do share
This love that has happened to few
For there's one in a million like you
Fate was surely kind to help my heart find
Someone like you to be my love
I give thanks each day that you came my way
Way out of heaven to try love

Oh yes, once in a lifetime you know

A love heaven started below

Though it may be rare, you and I do share

This love that has happened to few

For there's one in a million like you
