"When You Return"

When you return
I'll be around to welcome you
And then you'll learn
How much I missed you, dear
Oh yes, you'll learn
That though you were away from me
My heart had kept you locked inside
And you were near
When you return
I'll never ever let you go
Our flame will burn
As though you'd never gone
So come back soon
I'll wait to hold you close once more
I'll wait for you to say I do
When you return
