Sunrise - absurdity of another day
Senile decay takes your grin away
You had hell of good time you were on cloud nine

Retirement's like darkness to a dying flame Now more than ever you longing for some fame, Randy times in far away days are gonna fade in the haze

Pre-chorus:

You've lived, haven't lived in vain
Memories perish not in pain
So don't regret what you've done at last
Cause you can't call back the past

You'd better make your mind up, 'cause your time is slipping away

Chorus:

Why don't you hide in self compression?
It lies your own hands, yes you can Seal your fate, so step outside.
Live out the passion of anything you like

You'll see it's not too late
Here what I say - you live today
Your innerself - you can't betray

Bridge:

Look in the mirror and say what you see
But forget the natur reality
You're as young as your dreams my friend
It's mind over mater right 'till the end.

Ehy - don't you deal with your age?
Do - you believe in immortality?
Who - wants to live forever?
You - will never know this rot!

No one has told you that life's so short
But who want's to tell, when the ones who Know are with the lord, don't get the shock of Your life, when the years arrive

Pre-chorus

Chorus

You'd better your mind up, 'cause your time is slipping away.
