Sleeping in the dust of the morning sun.
Lies the mighty giant waiting to get waked He's alive
yeah, his breath, it can be seen from everywhere.
Since I can think, he has been there.

Chorus:

Kill the sleeping dragon
We hold ourselves a ticking time bomb in disguise

Kill the sleeping dragon!
A virgins blood won't been enough to pay the price.

Source of energy and warmth He's got the key to all our desires of tomorrows world

Triviality

The habituation to the trivial picture is wraping up reality

Chorus

Bridge:

Built it on two earth-clodes they've chosen a dangerous place

Dangerous as the atomic pile it's self for our human race.

So many ways, better ways of winning energy, but it seems

They won't see hydroelectric powerplants
They ignore the sunlight and velocity

Still the cult lives
The dragon is among us
His name is radiation energy

Chorus
