And so we think that we know all the answers,
We're the children of love
Close your eyes settle back put your feet up
For you're coming undone;
We shall remain insane
Until we understand just how to share the blame
Feel the years in your face it's a message,
Time is coming for you;
Let us speak with the voice of the children
For we all need the truth
Are we in shame or misled?
Could we be content to live it all again?

Until the oceans all run dry

Until the stars fall from the sky
I am with you, I am with you tonight
Until our two hearts beat as one
Until these lonely days are gone
I am with you, I am with you tonight

Yes we know that gold and love affairs are difficult to hide
You're only one among the many
No heartache, no pride;
And I can feel your pain, but it's over now, so you can live again
Yes I can feel your pain, but it's over now, and you can live again
