Recover the pieces, recover the pieces it's all I've got And remember me not This feeling is empty, this feeling is empty It's all you gave to me and All those fucked up things you put me through You lost the only thing you had left to lose Tragic mistake Under the circumstances, you act like a kid And you walked away What was the last thing that you said You're shying away, cause you wanted it everyday and you Lost it all, you lost it all Break through the casing, break through the casing It's what's inside All those things that you hide Pull skin from your fingers, pull the skin from you fingers to Ignore me like always All those fucked up things you put me through You lost the only thing you had left to lose Tragic mistake Under the circumstances, you act like a kid And you walked away
away, cause you wanted it everyday and you Lost it all, you lost it all It's time to see what's inside me It's been cold and dark for sometime It's way too much for me Under the circumstances, you act like a kid And you walked away What was the last thing that you said You're shying away, cause you wanted it everyday And you lost it all
