I'm not just being paranoid
There's something that I know
I only found out yesterday
I don't think I was supposed to know
You could have told me anything
You know I'd understand
Instead I found out by the way while sitting in the town

How come everybody knows
How come everybody knows
How come everybody knows
But me

How come everybody knows
How come everybody knows
But me

Never thought that do that to me
It's human nature I suppose
Now there's no point coming back to me
I'll come round and get my clothes

Never thought that do that to me
We're just animals you know
There are lots of things I could have said
But there's no point now I know

How come everybody knows
How come everybody knows
How come everybody knows
But me

How come everybody knows
How come everybody knows
How come everybody knows
But me

If you see me on the street some day
Just wave and say hello
And if you want to get back with me
I hope that I'll be the first to know

If you see me on the street some day
and if you want to get back with me
I hope I'll be the first one to know

How come eveybody knows
How come everybody knows
How come everybody knows
But me

How come eveybody knows
How come everybody knows
How come everybody knows
But me
