We both thought
It would last forever
Now the memories gone
Where did we go wrong

Theres no point in killing each other
Theres no point at all
Theres no point at all

Your offering peace instead of hope
Tell me what's worth more
Tell me what's worth more

Your taking away the cause of my smile
Tell me what's worth more
Tell me what's worth more

There's no point in killing each other
There's no point at all
There's no point at all

Should we just leave it like it is
Should we just leave it like it is
Should we just walk away and forget that we first met

I don't want to see your angry face
In my dreams at night
In my dreams at night

I want to remember the way that you were
When you used to smile
When you used to smile

There's no point in killing each other
There's no point at all
Theres no point at all
Should we just leave it like it is
Should we just leave it like it is
Should we just walk away and forget that we first met

Should we just leave it like it is
Should we just leave it like it is

Should we just walk away and not regret that we first met

There's no point in killing each other
There's no point at all
There's no point at all
