On the lonely mountain
Where the white snow lies
Angel exiles from the paradise
Expires his life

To any questions
He knows exact answer
Angel has seen the misfortunes
And the people's suffer

Exile sits and recalls
All the paradise years
He remembers his clear life

And remembers the universe tears

He remembers the various people
In the course of his way
But he don't know anybody
Who will heal his soul's pain

Angel was staying in the solitude
In his old age
He sat in the grief on the mountain
And fled into the rage
