I've got to roll the moon's been waiting for me to ape here out of here up there and I know you seem to hate it I've got to go,
I'll make it up to you out there I've got to hide the sun's been watching and designing my means of transportation and i know you're seen lying there that sun it burns you up so far away I've got to fly the moon will fro by My protection appearing up there I've got to soar so superhumanly That you're all appearing not here up there

Where I watch you
When I want you to know
Why I left earth
Appearing out of there up here
Here I am
There you are
I can see you clear up here There you are
You can't see me from down there

I've got to work the moon's been watching from down there somehow transport you here you seem to love me up here from the moon you're all i see you're all i see from the moon when i take time to look back at earth you're all i see from outer space
when i take time to look back at earth

I've got to hide the sun's been waiting the peaceful me appearing out of there up here and i know the sun will tan you up here leaving there we are two feathers i have to try and form a light try to form a light i have to fly trusting to provide my safety appearing not there up here i had to soar so opposite you and me

appearing out of here up there
you can see me as clear as we can see our x-world there you are here i am now knocking boots on the moon before we leave for the sun

up there is the ultimate heat contrary world when we want i want you know why we left earth we fell our love stronger then eve felt in our x-world
