Do you believe in what you have Created for yourself through me
I can't I tried I know myself
This stops now, this stops now

Say you kept your fights for me
What if I fought back?
You're pushing me too far

I feel the weight you've loaded
On my back to slow me down
I move enough, enough to resist
Enough to turn around

Say you kept your fights for me
What if I fought back?
You're pushing me too far
Say you kept your fights for me
A way of reaching down
And ripping out
