i was going for a ride
on a street with no name i took my mothers car
and drove it away
on the street there were people a old man with a cane
woman and an actor
who couldn't land his fame

Here comes the sunrise
Of a simple dream Nothings gonna be the same Life with no rain

I turned around the corner and walked into a bar i had a drink or two and on my way to the car someone grabbed my shoulder said its gonna be ok
the thing that got to me is no one was there
