When I first layed my eyes on you
I saw how beautiful you looked Beautiful hazel eyes
Dirty blonde hair
And those headphone's and black and blue jacket you always wore
I knew right then and there I just had to have you
I walked past you a couple of times
I noticed you but you never noticed me
I asked myself "Why"
I really wanted to have a chance with you
And then..
I saw you talking to a friend of mine
I went up to him and asked him what your name
He told me it was Matt
I asked him about you and I told him to tell you I was interested Chorus: He is my Golden Angel
He sparkles when he walks
He always has a smile
He has a special place in my heart
Now my heart is as hard as gold
Later on, couple of days later
I received a phone call from my friend
He told me Matt was interested and we all planned to do something for V-day
Plans got messed up
It's a little thing called CVS
Chorus
But in the end things worked out great
I am with Matt now
We are great together
He is the sweetest thing that ever happened to me
I love him more then anything
And I pray to god that he feels the same way too
Which I know he does
Chorus: (3x)
