I dream it's snowing outside
And it seems it'll never be that time

Can't decide to open my eyes
Or to wait 'til light
Don't want to decide to open my eyes
Or to wait 'til light
Tattooed spies, evil lies
That are tied to fright
Don't want to decide to open my eyes
Or to wait 'til light

Someday I'll see that no one was there
One day I'll know that I was immature

And still there's a fright
And it seems I'll have to sleep with the light

Leaving the lights on...
