Oh the times are changin'
I can feel it in the air
Oh can't you hear the bells of freedom
ringin' everywhere
And if you look across the ocean
You will see a shining light
And I know that come tomorrow
Everything will be alright

...'cause everyday people
Are making a sound
They're getting together and
Standing their ground
You can build up the walls
But we'll tear them down
We are everyday people

And our numbers are many
But our hearts beats as one
We will fight to the finish til
The battle is won
For the right to be free
In a world without war
In a land where the giants
Will no longer ignore
The voice of our children
Who are crying revolution
Who inherit of our pollution
If we don't change our ways

-Chorus
