"Lonely Road"

My Grandpa said to me, "Grandson sit down we need to talk
In life there may be times when it gets hard to walk the walk
It's easier to take the path that most have traveled on But then again sometimes to do what's right you must walk alone"

And that is a lonely road
Oh, when this world burns down deep in your soul
Oh, you will find there's a piece left in mind
You will find there's a piece to find, piece to find

Some people are unkind to those who see things different
We've all felt pain in ways it hurts to even bring it up
But that don't mean that patience, take this motion lying down
I'll stand and fight until the day they put me in the ground

And that is a lonely road
Oh, when this world burns down deep in your soul
You will find there's a piece left in mind
You will find there's a piece to find

And now I've taught you all I know
So take this seed and let it grow
So take this seed and let it grow

Though I'm here now soon I'll be gone
I did what I can to try it make it strong
I can see that you're strong

And that is a lonely road
Oh, when this world burns down deep in your soul
You will find there's a piece left in mind
You will find there's a piece to find

And that is a lonely road
And that is a lonely road
And that is a lonely road
