"Will You Stand"

You must stand, you must be strong
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
You must stand, you must be strong
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
You must stand, you must be strong
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
What do you say?

Take off the looks and let me see your face
There's nowhere to hide and no one to blame

I'll hold you, cling to me
In a song the truth beholds that you are from
You were wrong, remember to stand

You must stand, you must be strong
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
You must stand, you must be strong
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
You must stand, you must be strong
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
What do you say?

Try not to laugh when I start to sin
You can blame it on me if it makes you sane

I'll hold you, cling to me
In a song the truth beholds that you are from
You were wrong, remember to stand

You must stand, you must be strong
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
You must stand, you must be strong
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
You must stand, you must be strong
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
What do you say?

Will you be strong? Will you be strong?

I'll hold you, cling to me
In a song the truth beholds that you are from

You were wrong, remember to stand
You must stand, you must be strong
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
SCREAMING (Incomprehensible)

You must stand, you must be strong
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
You must stand, you must be strong
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
You must stand, you must be strong
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
What do you say?

You must stand, you must be strong
If your heart isn't ready then you will fall
You must stand, you must be strong
