Only a fool's unwise
I don't know why I should be so surprised
God knows what we've done
Much better to be late than too soon
You know you never get much running room
And just when you're having fun
Someone comes along
Just when you're having fun
Just as my life goes according to plan
And I thought I held love in the palm of my hand
Because I have no tears
This whole thing must be your idea, baby
Don't make me confess
I know my limits well
So long ago they were shot to hell
Just let me rest with you
That's all I want to do
Just when you're having fun
Just as my intentions had become worthwhile
And I've taken the steps to be walked down the aisle
Just as I stand tall from out of my seat
The ground has come up firmly under my feet
Just when you're having fun
