Oh every time I see you
I expect that little kiss.
The one that's always over
just a little bit too quick.

I want to take you in my arms,
and see that pretty smile.
But you put away in the weirdest way,
and I know I'll nly be a while.

Oh, my baby, where have you gone?
Can you tell me where the
hell we went wrong?
Is it over or are we just on a break?
I don't know how much more my lonely heart can take.

Cuz' you're losin' me in bits n' pieces.
A part of me that used to mean us.
I love you, but homee Jesus,
not enough for both of us.
Send me songs, I'll send you letters.
Be your friends, we'll be much better.
I love you now, and more then ever.
Not enough for both of us.
It's not enough for both of us.

I never thought we'd ever even think to work it out, yeah.
But, I feel like I've been stiickin' up sticks
and baby that just ain't enough.

Can't you look me
straight in the eyes?
tell me if, it's been
even fine? yeah.
I can't it down anymore,
but if this is how it's gonna be,
I don't want it anymore.

Cuz' you're losin' me in bits n' pieces.

A part of me that used to mean us.
I love you, but homee jesus,
not enough for both of us.
Send me songs, I'll send you letters.
Be your friends, we'll be much better.
I love you now, and more then ever.
Not enough for both of us.
It's not enough for both of us.

You don't know how long I've tried to break through all your bricks that are all covered by the pain that you suffer everyday.
And all the anger that comes in and out of this door, that you don't know what to do.
Untill you swing it my way.

Cuz' you're losin' me in bits n' pieces.
A part of me that used to mean us.
I love you, but homee jesus,
not enough for both of us.
Send me songs, I'll send you letters.
Be your friends, we'll be much better.
I love you now, and more then ever.
Not enough for both of us.
It's not enough for both of us.
