This is the darkest night
Stars have all faded away
Quiet upon this world

Through the glass there is a light
We will find a way

I would die for you
Cross the sky for you
I will send out a light waiting for you alone
You're all I need
You set me free
And this fire will guide you home

There is an open door
Somehow it feels so familiar
We have been here before

Through this old forgotten find
There must be a way

I would die for you
Cross the sky for you
I will send out a light waiting for you alone
You're all I need
You set me free
And this fire will guide you home

Where our hearts are wide open
Where our hope is unbroken

I would die for you
Cross the sky for you
I will send out a light waiting for you alone...

I would die for you
Cross the sky for you
I will send out a light waiting for you alone
You're all I need
You set me free

I would die for you

Cross the sky for you
I will wait for you
I will stay for you
You're all I need
You set me free
You set me free

And this fire will guide you home...
