Well, there's a static landscape stretching
As far as the eye can see
And a frozen sunset burning
Like some giant restless eye
I can't move in here,
I'll let my fingers do the walking
Is this a casting
Or the daydream of a castaway?

Nothing ever changed here,
'Cause no one's alive for real

I see narcissi shooting up in the garden
I got blind from staring right into the sun
I've got a sense of community
And tics round my eyes
We share all knowledge in the world
But have nothing left to tell of, oh yeah

Oh why can't I fall in with you?

I guess I can't be lonely
With the whole world in my room
Who needs progress in a world built
On metaphors of lore?
How'd our love turn into sorrow,
In a place with no tomorrow?
Wizened down the ocean
All the stars have gone real low
And Wisdom's song will follow,
That I can't explain in digits

I feel good in my room, nothing outside
I sense the danger in the air
Pangs of love from my mind shoot into the night

Pull on your electrode suit tonight
Watch my presence in the ersatz light

I want to fade away
Among the binary stars

Ah, knowledge is good
Ah, nothing left to say, oh no!

Pull on your electrode suit tonight
Watch my presence in the ersatz light

(Repeat)

Ah-ah ah-ah
