"It's Nothing"

I remember stars and wishing, letting go to stop the spinning
Worlds apart but still colliding.
I remember stars and wishing, hoping for a life worth living
Could it be that I am dieing.

Taking all your love. Breaking what I was
Start again like it's nothing. It's nothing.

Feeling welcomed under water. Shaking hands with my disaster.
Please remove me from the nightmare. Weak and falling in desire.

I will plead for my soul to find. Hearing thee right beside me.
Empires all around. Watch what knocks them down
Building up and there's nothing. There's nothing.
