You shine right through like a star in the night
And I knew it was you and I take two steps back
I said how you've been though you still look the same
Now my heart pounds through like nothing has changed
And there were so many lonely nights
Round and round like a lost soul it just wasn't right

Seeing you when it's heaven tonight
Makes the hurting subside, glad you doing alright
I'm fine too, though it struggles sometimes
Try to figure reasons to why you walked away from love
Good to see you again

So I take your hands to get lost in your eyes
The blood runs from my head really no big surprise
Cos my greatest times was the time spend with you
When I make love I still think of you
When you walked away from me you kept walking
I was too damn blind to see, now there's no more
Talking

Seeing you when it's heaven tonight
Makes the hurting subside, glad you doing alright
I'm fine too, though it struggles sometimes
Try to figure reasons to why you walked away from love
Good to see you again

Seeing you when it's heaven tonight
Makes the hurting subside, glad you doing alright
I'm fine too, though it struggles sometimes
Try to figure reasons to why you walked away from love
Good to see you again
Oh oh wa. I know you have to go
But one more night can't make this goodbye
I'm all alone

Seeing you when it's heaven tonight
Makes the hurting subside, glad you doing alright
I'm fine too, though it struggles sometimes
Try to figure reasons to why you walked away from love

Good to see you again

Seeing you when it's heaven tonight
Makes the hurting subside, glad you doing alright
I'm fine too, though it struggles sometimes
Try to figure reasons to why you walked away from love
Good to see you again

Seeing you when it's heaven tonight
Makes the hurting subside, glad you doing alright
I'm fine too, though it struggles sometimes
Try to figure reasons to why you walked away from love
Good to see you again
