I fake a smile and say I'm fine I know I should have seen the signs but I loved you I was blind pretendin' we were only killin' time a white lie never thought we'd say goodbye I thought love of our kind could turn water into wine but I'm...

on my own
tryin' to get a hold of things what a mess I'm in I've done wrong that is why my baby's gone I got myself to blame here I am
lonely and broken again I keep holdin' on another lover's gone

I'm gettin' tired, another try another failure to reach the sky but I'll always keep on lookin' for somebody to be standin' by my side for Miss Right for what makes humanity divine but I can't seem to find someone to love for life so I'm...

love is not an easy game when you're gamblin' with your heart at stake there's nothing to gain if you're playin' safe barely time to heal before you brake I hope and pray
I got what it takes to make it all the way

on my own...
