Yea is the rock and no i never sold a rock, I never worked on the block. I was more concerened with gettin prep. I could care less bout a street rep. And mos def i dont care if you talkin bout you pushed alot of packs, you made alot of stacks,and you caught alot of racks because all of that dont mean nothin when it comes to hip hop. And you cant be frontin when it comes to hip hop. It is the ultimate lie detector, and respecting is all its requesting. So just give it and be gone, or dont give it and be gone for your wrongs you've committed in your lifetime. Wanna understand my lifetime then listen to my nice.and dont think for a second that im in this for the limelight and to shine nice and for the air time cause im bout to strike like lightning and this radio music is not to my liking. Its not exciting, its all the same. Are yall sharing a brain. Speaking on cash and clothes its all so old, we done heard it before about a millions times. I swear yall will steal each others rhyme books. Its got me shook like im bout to explode. Until the next hip hop episode. Yea is the rock signinig off
