This is all a game I said I said old o-what's-her-name is dead, is dead I Said
And I don't care if he takes her from me it's another day so please oh Please return from far away and come back from the dead
All lovers leave eventually today
Today she came back from the dead Love is just a game afraid to be to become a betray of world domain
Today let me just say this, this activist needs to help me breath but what

Do you need? I need to come out to convey All lovers leave eventually today today I came out to convey all lovers leave Eventually today
And I love you just as much as I always will All the planets and the stars will not split us into Opposition leads the hands on the devil whom Inside this heart of mine
