Once, a dream is born
A voice takes form to speak new prescence
And like, just like a storm
It strikes but never thinks to warn us

Here, the dream lives on
The voice will come to speak a new truth
The storm needed to form
To find its beauty inside us

Dreams, realize
They harmonize
They sing a new song

The heart, returns to the start
And joy will speak in perfect silence
It's yours, the stars above
The dream becomes eternal love

The voice, now pure and new
It finally rejoins the stars above
The dream becomes eternal love
