What's it gonna be?
Are you willing walking away from this
What it's gonna take?
Can you really break this love?

Where you gonna go?
Tell me do you know when is your heart in it?
Cause if you leave, baby then leave
Make up your mind before you shut the door

Cause if there's a chance we might've missed
And if there's a ray of light in this
Baby you should know that this is where my heart takes over, over..over...

When we're back in time,
You know we have tried too hard to let this fade
Almost disappeared, but we made it here, baby
And look me in the eye, promise I won't cry
This is your choice to make
Cause if you go, baby then go
You change your mind I won't be here no more

Cause if there's a chance we might've missed
And if there's a ray of light in this
Baby you should know that this is where my heart takes over, over..over...

And if there's a small piece left of us
Somewhere in the battles we have lost
Baby look at me cause this is where my heart takes over, over..over...

This is where my heart takes over, over
This is where my heart takes over, over
This is where my heart takes over, over
This is where my heart takes over, over

What's it gonna be?
Are you willingly walking away from this

Cause if there's a chance we might've missed

And if there's a ray of light in this
Baby you should know that this is where my heart takes over, over..over...

And if there's a small piece left of us
Somewhere in the battles we have lost
Baby look at me cause this is where my heart takes over, over..over...

This is where my heart takes over, over
This is where my heart takes over, over
This is where my heart takes over, over
This is where my heart takes over, over
