Feeling like a millionaire,
Could be going - I'd be good - be going anywhere.
We don't need those lights to see,
Cameras flashing and we're right where we wanna be.

Don't want it all to stop.
We're here and that's enough,
Cuz you know that there's magic in this city.
Feels like living somebody else's life.
These streets are talking to me.
Feels like living somebody else's life.

Don't know the way to go,
And it doesn't matter.
We can find what we need tonight.
There's magic in this city.
Feels like living somebody else's life.

Nothing here can bring me down,
Cuz the music is the heart beat of this town.
Don't worry when the morning comes,
If you believe it will go on and on.

Don't want it all to stop.
We're here and that's enough,
Cuz you know that there's magic in this city.
Feels like living somebody else's life.
These streets are talking to me.
Feels like living somebody else's life.

Don't know the way to go,
And it doesn't matter.
We can find what we need tonight.
There's magic in this city.
Feels like living somebody else's life.

Turn the music up,
I don't see a red light.
I can't get enough,
Of the noise of the skyline.
I'm somebody else,
Under these stars tonight.

Open your eyes,
Open your eyes.

There's magic in this city.
Feels like living somebody else's life.
These streets are talking to me.
Feels like living somebody else's life.

Don't know the way to go,
And it doesn't matter.
We can find what we need tonight.
There's magic in this city.
Feels like living somebody else's life.
