Waiting on a call could take all day
The cold front's in but not to stay
Where do you go, where do you go when it's raining
Try to understand but we got to know
It's only words that come and go
What do you say, what do you say

When it's overrun
To be second just to none
Show a little humour and carry the weight
Carry the weight
Carry the weight

Tonight I won't sleep
The air's so thick it's hard to breathe
Follow the signs, follow the signs to the morning
Ten times down and I've been through Everything I wanted to
What do you say, what do you say

When it's overrun
To be second just to none
Show a little humour and carry the weight
Carry the weight
Carry the weight

I'll leave it up to anyone
To try
Cause you've got everything and you're never wrong
Time ain't nothing but a casualty
Cause I'll keep on pushing it through
And now if I surrender well I won't mistake it
For the best that I'd forgotten to do

I'll leave it up to anyone
To try
Cause you've got everything and you're never wrong

Were you overrun
Were you second just to none
Show a little humour and carry the weight...
