Lying, face down,
With my head in the sand
Sharp stones, crash silently in my head
Can't get this blood from a stone,
When all ties are severed to the bone.
Warm wind, blows my skin to red
I can't change, what hasn't hasn't been said
Can't get this blood from a stone,
When all ties you sever to the bone
Can't get this blood from a stone,
Besides, I severed down to the bone.

Can't get this blood from a stone,
When all ties you sever to the bone
Can't get this blood from a stone,
Besides, I severed down to the bone.
