dont you think youve had your fun lay across the morning sun been saving my money, been working for you been saved from temptation, been waiting for you theres a boy in every town no wonder i get around

i'm seeing you for the first time im been the fool for a year if you were life and not there
... now i know that im falling for you again yeah im falling in love again everyone has missed the bus they're gunning down the two of us been crossing the border, corrupting my mind keep my emotion, forgvng my pride

ive been the fool for the year ive seen my life and im there now i know that im falling for you again

its still quiet in here i cant see through my tears ive burned the candle of flares so i can see you again see you again, see you again, see you again

ive been the fool for the year ive walked through life im not there and now i know im falling for you again

im falling in, im falling in love again yeah im falling, falling in love...again
