(Josh Graham)

Five months ago you left me here without a single dime
You're doing fine and everything you own used to be mine

You left me stuck with all the bills and you've got all the land

I think by now it's safe to say I'm not a happy man
Well I hear you're livin' up on the hill with some guy that drives a Porsche

And I'm still here in a beat up shack with a twenty year old horse

You stopped in here like we're good friends but I think you'd better go

I'm mad as hell but I'll hold back

'Cause there's something you should know

I wouldn't hit ya, I ain't that way

But I said all that I'm gonna say

So you'd better make tracks, you'd better get out of sight

'Cause I wouldn't hit you but my girlfriend might

Well I see you don't believe your ears but what I said is true

She's a pretty little brown-haired girl and she even cooks good too

She's got a heart of gold and treats me right

But if I were you I'd head

On outta here 'cause she hates you and she wishes you were dead

I wouldn't hit ya, I ain't that way

But I said all that I'm gonna say

So you'd better make tracks, you'd better get out of sight

'Cause I wouldn't hit you but my girlfriend might

I wouldn't hit ya, I ain't that way

But I said all that I'm gonna say

So you'd better make tracks, you'd better get out of sight

'Cause I wouldn't hit you but my girlfriend might

Oh yes she will
