It's so much easier to walk away if I wash it down
It's so much easier to look away if I think I look proud It's so much easier, I like it easier, I'll take it easier, I'll take another round It's so much easier to let the days go, dazed and mellow
It's so much easier to let the smoke go, let it go slow It's so much easier, I guess it's easier Sometimes I'm not so sure, but sure, why not? Another round
It's so much easier to just admit that I forget And sometimes it's easier to let my mind slip, hazed and backlit
Sometimes it's easier, kills me easier. Take me home, it's my last round
