"What Grace Is Given To Me"

oh if only
grace would hold me
whisper softly
to my heart
tell me
just how hard it is
to live without her
live without her
i can no longer see
beyond this shroud
of grief and suffering
wrapped around me
wrapped around me like
winter's coat
winter's coat
I will fall into the shadow
i will die without the light
i will fall into the night ill be waiting for your return even if you dont come home ill be here
staying up until night falls on me
and even though i cant
see your face
i can taste
the bitterness of your tears as they fall onto every word you read
and bleed back into the seams When will you come back to me
