The Sound Of My Voice
(Album:Sandra Pires)

I'm making a wish sending it twice to your heart anything that I should know that your eyes just won't impart but this is the sound of my voice and it's calling for you I had you close to my heart can't you see how we're drifting all apart this is the end of my strenght and I'm calling for you why don't you hear - by now this is the sound of my voice and it's calling - by now this is the sound of my tears as they're falling - by now this is the sound of our love as it fades ou of sight darling lies have been spoken - tears have been cried darkness all around me and I'm hurting deep inside and I haven't felt so lonely in this world since you been here ehy can't you here - by now..

I pull myself together and I ask the stars above is this all that I deserve from you or should I walk away from this love - forever can't tell wrong from right as we fade out of sight
