So here we are at the end of the road the two of us know there's a heart that's breakin but that's okay
coz you never said you'd stay I knew I'd face this day that you'd say goodbye

I won't plead and I won't cry
I won't bleed and I won't die
I just hold my head up high while I watch you walk away

This time is the last time this night is our last night let's not waste a heartbeat let's hold this moment tight
this time is the last time hold me like the first time baby that would be enough if this time is the last time we make love we're letting go of a love that's come and gone somehow life goes on we'll get past the sorrow and when you weep don't look back on me too long coz I'm trying so hard to be strong I can't let you see my pain

I won't plead and I won't cry
I won't bleed and I won't die
I won't ask the reason why as you turned and walk away

some other day, some other time when you speak my name will you be kind I hold on to your memory coz you'll always be a part of me
