as you lay your hands apon me

i sit and observe

i couldn't help but to notice ...

but your finger nail polish was chipped a little on the side

such an akward thing for a girl your age

so distracted with her looks so tell me how have you been (how have you been?)

is there something on ur mind? (is there something on your mind?)

is there something you've been dying to tell someone?
(dying to tell someone)

Well . maybe .. i could help fetch another quarter out of your pocket

and throw it down the well

fetch another quarter out of your pocket

and throw it down the well
when you feel the water

splashing on you

ask whatever you want to hear about.
listen for my answer

it travels through your mind

you'll see the silver lining i haven't seen you a while i noticed you've got your nails painted they look so nice

so tell me how have you been

is there something on ur mind?

(dah dah dah)

(as you feel the water)

(splashing on you)

ask whatever you wish.....
