Man: don't you see that I cant breathe without you I cannot live without you don't you see that don't you see how much I love you well of course i remember how could I forget Said you loved my name since the day we first met heres my vision,me and you together in the dark seem a little wrong but we rome from the heart God dam had to have you carres you and grab you been threw it all baby doll and i'm glad you felt how you felt and you gave me what you gave every thought every touch ima take it to the grave baby ima break it down ima tell you what the truth be I met it in my soul yea you know were the rout be i'm quicker than you think don't blink just walk with me hold me close baby doll and just talk with me through the good and the bad and the drama light to my life gave me peace gave me mama fuck all that bullshit

I love you to the death
the key to my soul I confesss

[Hook]

I can feel it in my heart tell me if you realy feel the same aint no need to say a word cuz we knowin now that we both to blame
I remember in the nights when we hugged and you held me close and if you realy want to make it well then baby com and let me know

man i'm tired of bein tied all the names in the night the baby the family the shit we got to fight I know it's kinda hard but let god do his judgin look me in the face and tell me if you see somethin you aint even got to move I can see I can read you I put that on my life now brawd that I need you it's been a little while bout my lonesome lonely you said it's just me baby why won't you come and show me seperation deadly it's turnin into danger my soul and my mate how we turnin into strangers it's been ten years and a million plus tears I remember very clear you was sittin right here your my diamond my pearl that peace that completes me

I think about you gone and it beats me so fuck all that bullshit
the key to my soul I confesss

[hook]

now follow me listen to the words I just spoken broken, sittin in the dark and i'm hopin see theres god and theres little laughin and we giggle the middle of the night comes when everything changes strange how it's been through the years but we made it it's been a little rough got a little complicated difficult to live with but still we had ride it it hurts like a motha fucka me and you divided but aint no need to chase you i tell you when i face you aint no motha fuckin brawd in the world that could replace you
sincerely your boy you remember what i tell you you felt it in your soul every single time i held you it is what it is baby you know were i'm at I see when it's time yea you know we get it back
so fuck all that bullshit
the key to my soul I confesss
