I long for the days when all will fall in place
I wish for the times when I am done here
When I have done enough
Because I need a break to make it go away
It has become far too perpetual
Its been on and on and on
Its not making any sense

Shame on me and shame on you
We will never be the same again

I wave it goodbye and I don't even try to explain or understand
I don't even try
I need a drink
I need a drink
at the end of this railroad,
I need to think no more of this
Its been on and on and on
Its not making any sense

Shame on me and shame on you
We will never be the same again
This is not a love song, this is not my mother tongue
