If you wanna go,
if you wanna stay,
I will be here wait'n,
Til you say my name.

Been around the world,
been there by myself,
I grow tired of walking,
with every passing step.

Slowly making old,
blow'n out the days,
count'n on each morning,
like candles on a cake.
That's better when we're young,
the prize of being born,
is wait'n at the end.
Will you be my friend,
I'll count you like a blessing,
I'll hold you like the wind.

Oh and you've, got the words to say,
You've got the hands to hold,
You've got the eyes to see,
and I can not control.
The borders of our hearts,
the stitches of my soul,
I see it in your eyes, we know that this is love.

Come on and say seniorita that you want me, want me.
Say that you'll never go away.
Say that you only want these arms of mine to hold you.
Say that our love is all that you will ever take.

Don't do me wrong,
don't do it girl.
