As midnight was slowly coming up,
He was looking for incident or trap,
Coming to workplace at the night,
He was playing about torch light,
He had no any chance escape with one's life,
He was cremated alive!

Entering into the funeral hall,
He was breathing out alcohol,
He decided to test a new incinerator,
It was performed wrongly operation!
He had no any chance escape with one's life,
He was cremated alive!

The conveyer belt had sent him to chamber,
And the chamber gate had closed hopelessly,
The blasts of flame was roasting him till ash,
Covered by blisters he was squealing like a swine,
He had no any chance escape with one's life,
He was cremated alive!

Air is saturated with scorched meat smell,
As ventilating damper had no been opened,
Brutal smog will be stay for a week,
The swine had burned to ashes - so nothing to seek,
He had no any chance escape with one's life,
He was cremated alive!
He was cremated alive,
He had no any chance escape with one's life!
