He's a lean and hungry hunter, on the street tonight the fire's bright

She's in his sights

She's a lonely little dancer, out to find a daring new romance

The girl takes a chance

They're hunters of the night, find their love where they might

We're all hunters of the night

Yeah

She can see her lonely stranger, standing in the cold street corner light

There in the night

She can feel his arms surround her, wanting this embrace to never end

Still once again

They're hunters of the night, find their love where they
might

We're all hunters of the night

We're all hunters of the night

See the lean and hungry hunter, standing in the cold
street corner light

There in the night

She can feel his arms surround her, wanting this
embrace to never end

Still once again

They're hunters of the night, find their love where they
might

We're all hunters of the night

We are hunters, we all hunt the night

Findin' love wherever they might

Yeah

We're all hunters, we're hunters of the night

We're all hunters of the night

We're all hunters of the night
