Dear Sir, I'm concerned about our nation
Take a look around - it ain't just me
I'm sure that your job ain't no vacation but I 've been out of work for 18 weeks

I was born here, I was raised here
A red-blood American boy
You're messin' with the way we live
This country ain't no toy

Stop, that's enough
Who's gonna pay for all this stuff?
I'm scratchin' by so I can pay the rent
I think it's true you're out of touch, sir, with all
due respect
It's you who works for us, Mr. President

Can we count on you to be accountable?
And if the face of danger, fierce and brave?
I can dream, although it's highly doubtful
You'll try hard to balance, cut and save

Yeah, I was born here, I was raised here
An all-american son
Got the right to cling to my religion and my guns

Stop, that's enough
Who's gonna pay for all this stuff?
I'm scratchin' by so I can pay the rent
I think it's true you're out of touch, sir, with all
due respect
It's you who works for us, Mr. President

Yeah, I was born here, I was raised here
A proud american man
I've had all the hope and change that I could ever stand

Stop, that's enough
Who's gonna pay for all this stuff?
I'm scratchin' by so I can pay the rent
I think it's true you're out of touch, sir, with all

due respect
It's you who works for us, Mr. President

And to the house and Senate, this includes you too
Every elected official
I think you've forgotten that you work for the people here
But don't think for a minute we have
