

Soco Heroes "Wonderlust"

Visit "Wonderlust" on MotoLyrics.com

Imagine the looks on all of their faces
When they see you and I don't care.
Imagine that we had traded places
So we could see how they all just stare.

The fall in November brings a peace to me
It captures all my life has become
A subtle silence floating on the leaves.
Another week to come undone.

Chorus:
And all this time goes by in silence
Are we there again?
A moment lost in quiet violence
Are we near the end?
The memories stained in pain are coming out inside of your head
When "don't forget me" is all you said.

Pretending to smile to stay evasive
Escaping the pain that tears you down.
Avoiding the truth, remain complacent
And slipping away without a sound.

I have so many questions, but it's too much to ask
With so many answers, I just fall through the cracks in your heart
So all I ask is that you let me know
When it's time for me to you go.

Chorus:

The fall in November brings a peace to me
It captures all my life has become
A subtle silence floating on the leaves
another week to come undone

Chorus:

Visit Soco Heroes page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

