Lyrics: Karl O. Langedahl

Through pain I became
Servants make way
Make way all gods
Look at me, now learn to fly

With my flesh my ravens came
With my tears I drowned the flames of love
With my will came evil lust
And I shall cover the sun...eternally

Carved by the claws of the unholy beast

Divine scars, thy blood is black
Serpents, hear me now
Blow your winds, consume the earth
Through pain I was made to rule

Kneel now, and I'll spear your life
Flow through the gate into my realm
Be one, serve me
No one else, only me

Now I'm strong enough to walk above your realm
Come with me, and Yours shall be mine...
