When you came blazing the night away
You came in the dead of night your eyes like the sun
Now you've gone to find us another way
Outside of this cold and pain found by no one

Yea I don't know where to begin or how to explain how the TV talks and the aeroplane the big empty in our heads and in our hearts

After the fall there's nothing at all
They're gonna take us for a ride
You can make them or break them all night
After the fall there's nothing at all
They're gonna take us for a ride
You can make them or break them all night

A thousand days I walked through the desert plane
Blinded without the rain
Your eyes like the sun
Watch it fall taking your breath away
Leading you to the day
All has come undone

Yea fuck that shit motherfucker

I want to tell you something
Knock another brick off the wall
We make the lives we live yea
No explanations after the fall
After the fall there's nothing at all
