she sits by the fire and tells herself
"i know he'll come back someday." she lays down on her new afghan and remembers how she asked him to stay chorus:
he said, "you know i gotta go, i'm late-but oh, you really look great i'm in a band and you don't understand and you know i'll be back someday." she drives alone all night tears in her eyes fromt he fight she's buyin' some pads, and she misses her dad and has a big craving for cake
chorus
in the back she sees ryan and danielle and she's looking for something to sell she's stealing a bean, from under the machine and looks like she's been through hell
chorus
ryan gets up for a drive danielle walks behind him in stride he pulls out a gun, it's those beans that he loves but then leads all in the "hand jive"
i'm in a band and you don't understand
and you know i'll be back someday.
