"Seed Becomes A Tree"

Lost in the forest of my life
All that I have, I leave behind
Now I feel so real

My soul is flying overseas
Oh it's so peaceful and so free
I'm just a little seed

And now I'm in your hands
You're calling me your friend
And planting faith so deep in me

And now I understand
It is your perfect plan
A little seed becomes a tree

You're always sending me the rain
You are my shelter from the pain
You give me light to grow

The quiet voice deep in my heart
Explains me how to do my part
Love is in control

And now I'm in your hands
You're calling me your friend
And planting faith so deep in me

And now I understand
It is your perfect plan
A little seed becomes a tree
